

LIFE THREATENING SITUATIONS

As a member of the Cooperative, if you or a permanent resident of your household are dependent upon continued electric service to the extent that any interruption, suspension, or other loss of electric service will create a dangerous or life-threatening condition, you must notify the Cooperative in writing that a life-threatening situation will occur if the member's residence is without electric service.

“Life Threatening Situation” means a situation in which the discontinuance of service will give rise to a substantial risk of death or a grave impairment of the health of the member or other permanent resident of the premises where the service is rendered.

If you have received a notice of disconnection of service and you are seeking to avoid the disconnection under this section, you must accomplish one of the following before the date stated on the notice of disconnection:

1. Submit to the Cooperative a completed Life-Threatening Certificate, signed by a licensed medical physician. The Life-Threatening Certificate must identify the medical emergency, specify the effect of discontinuance of service, and specify the time period during which the discontinuance of service will give rise to a substantial risk of death or a grave impairment to the health of the member or permanent residence of the member's household.
2. Pay any past due and current electric bill and/or enter into a deferred payment plan to keep your regular electric bill current.

If your service has been disconnected and you are seeking reconnection because the interruption of electric service will result in a life-threatening condition to you or a permanent resident of the premises where the service is rendered, you must accomplish one of the following within seventy-two (72) hours of the disconnection:

1. Submit to the Cooperative a completed Life-Threatening Certificate, signed by a licensed medical physician. The Life-Threatening Certificate must identify the medical emergency, specify the effect of discontinuance of service, and specify the time period during which the discontinuance of service will give rise to a substantial risk of death or a grave impairment to the health of the member or permanent residence of the member's household.
2. Pay any past due and current electric bill, reconnection fee, and/or enter into a deferred payment plan to keep your regular electric bill current.

A Life-Threatening Certificate is only effective for one (1) monthly billing period and cannot be for an indefinite period. To renew the Life-Threatening Certificate, you must:

1. Notify the Cooperative before the end of the billing period you intend to renew the Certificate.
2. Submit a current Life-Threatening Certificate completed by a physician.
3. Comply with the terms of the deferred payment plan.

A Life Threatening Certificate does not relieve the member of liability for their electric bill. Current bills must be paid as they come due and the member is expected to honor the terms of any deferred payment plan.
